“A person’s main asset is themselves, so preserve and enhance yourself”

Warren Buffett

“Number One Health has been working closely with us over the last few years. They provide a professional and comprehensive service, in support of some of our most important clients’ International needs. Their expert knowledge in this area is invaluable.”
Martyn Slater, Strategic Relationship Manager, Corporate Sales. AXA PPP healthcare.

“BP E&P Sunbury have used Number One Health for over a year to carry out immunisations and a variety of travel medicals for staff travelling overseas. We have found the clinic to be friendly, competent and reactive to our business needs.” BP EPT Health Team Sunbury December 2006.

“These physicals are PERFECT! Thank you so much!!”
Carnival Cruise Lines.

“Number One Health has assisted the Occupational Health Department of Centrica to ensure that all our business travellers are fit and fully prepared for overseas travel for the past two years. They have continually worked with us to ensure all processes are aligned and all travellers are processed in a timely manner. They strive to provide a best practice service and are always willing to offer support and advise when needed. With regular quarterly meetings, providing management information, issues are always addressed promptly. The wealth of knowledge they have on world travel, together with their sharing approach, helps reduce the business concerns around requirements for pre and post travel.”
Centrica PLC

“Just to say thank you to you and all involved for getting my medical forms sorted, it’s greatly appreciated.”
Carnival Cruise Lines.

“I’d like to thank all number one clinic staff (especially Kristina) who provided my medical examination and made my recovery process much faster. It was a pleasure for me to deal with such professional people. Thank you very much again and my kind regards.”
AMEC.

“It was good to hear that there may be viable options to the NHS if the system collapses during a pandemic. We will indeed likely be sending some staff your way for various travel and transfer requirements. I thank you for the excellent service that has been provided to everyone I know about that has used your services. Keep up the good work.”
Nurse Adjudicator, London.

“I have known Dr Charlie Easmon for some years now in that time he has provided not only myself but all my colleagues at Rolls-Royce Buckingham Gate with an outstanding service. I have always found him to be much more than a company doctor. I class him as a friend, this was demonstrated when I need help on a personal nature, as always he was there with not only medical advice but and understanding ear and his expertise is second to none. He demonstrates this consistently, I know I can also speak for Sir Ralph Robins who visited him for the first time.....and was totally impressed. In all the years I have known him he has never said that he could not help. I value his friendship and his professional expertise very highly.”

Patricia Frith, Communications Officer & Executive Assistant to Sir Ralph Robins, Rolls-Royce Group plc
